OVERVIEW:

- Accumulating snow continues across southern New England this afternoon into early Monday
- Additional amounts of 3 to 6 inches of snow across southeast MA, which includes the Cape/Islands
- Additional amounts of I to 3 inches for the I-95 corridor, & up to an inch north of the MA Pike & west of I-495

TIMING

- Heaviest across southeast MA this afternoon & tonight
- Tapering off late tonight/early Monday morning

HAZARDS & IMPACTS

Slippery road conditions on any untreated surfaces

Winter Weather Advisory remains in effect for southeast MA, much of RI &

NWS ALERTS

Location of the heaviest snow bands tonight.

CHALLENGES

POST-EVENT

OUTLOOK

FORECAST

Drier, but cold on Monday with highs in the teens to low 20s.

portions of CT

Expected Additional Snowfall - Official NWS Forecast Fitchburg mherst 3.0 2.0 1.0 National Weather Service Boston/Norton, MA 02/13/2022 01:29 PM EST Follow Us: weather.gov/Boston/winte

NEXT BRIEFING

 Last briefing for this event