

WEATHER FORECAST OFFICE

- A brief mixture of light snow, sleet and freezing rain this evening.
- A light glaze of ice with less than an inch of snow/sleet expected.
- Greatest concern near and north of the CT/RI border.

Areas of Light Icing Possible this Evening

Greatest concern for light surfaces between 7 PM and Midnight

Weather Forecast Office
Boston/Norton, MA
Issued Feb 07, 2023 3:54 AM EST

The map displays the following information:

- Yellow Shaded Area: Indicates regions with the greatest concern for light icing.
- Ice Accumulation Legend: A vertical color bar on the left shows storm total ice accumulation in inches, with values 0.01, 0.05, and 0.1.
- Cities Labeled: Lawrence, Greenfield, Fitchburg, Pittsfield, Great Barrington, Springfield, Torrington, Hartford, Willimantic, Waterbury, New Haven, New London, Charlestown, Block Island, Providence, Plymouth, Provincetown, Hyannis, New Bedford, Oak Bluffs, Nantucket, and Boston.
- Highways: Major routes are shown with their respective shields (e.g., I-90, I-95, I-495, I-84).

Source: East, Maine, Quebec, Southern Geographics, CNES/Airbus DS, USDA, ESRI, AeroGRID, Bing, and GeoEye Imagery

NWS Boston/Nortonweather.gov/boston