

OVERVIEW:

- Dangerous Heat & Humidity Tuesday through Friday.
- Afternoon Heat Indices of 98 to 105 degrees.
- Little relief at night with overnight Heat Indices only dropping into the 70s.

TIMING	▪ Dangerous Heat & Humidity arrives Tuesday, peaking Wednesday and Thursday
HAZARDS & IMPACTS	▪ Heat Advisory in effect Tuesday away from the coast ▪ Excessive Heat Watch remains in place for Wednesday and Thursday for dangerous heat indices of 98-105°F
FORECAST CHALLENGES	▪ How often sea breezes provide some relief on the immediate coast; Sea breeze more likely Tues/Wed compared to Thurs ▪ Persistence of heat into Friday with increasing chances for scattered showers & T-Storms Fri into the weekend.
POST-EVENT OUTLOOK	▪ Heat breaks over the weekend but it will remain humid with the risk of scattered showers & t-storms at times.	Maximum Apparent Temperature Thursday Weather Forecast Office Boston/Norton, MA Issued Jun 17, 2024 3:39 PM EDT  Source: Best, Mearns, GeoEye, Earthstar Geographics, CNES/Airbus DS, USDA, USGS, AeroGRID, IGN, and the GIS User Community NWS Boston/Norton weather.gov/box
NEXT BRIEFING	▪ By 6 PM	